OUR ROBUST DEBT COLLECTION SERVICE

Nightfox Investigations & Debt Recovery offer specialist debt collection services that are ideal for commercial debt collection or for collecting personal debts. When we are instructed to collect a debt on your behalf, we don't stop until we have got every penny back for you.

We're experts at assisting our clients with money collection in a speedy and professional manner and are extremely proud of our high success rates and fantastic reputation in the trade.

TRADITIONAL DEBT COLLECTION FROM THE EXPERTS

We use traditional doorstep debt collection agency techniques to collect the money owed to our clients. Many clients come to us as a last resort, due to the fact they feel handcuffed by the legal systems in place throughout the UK. We find some debtors get away with non-payment even when a collection agency has been instructed to handle their case.

Here at Nightfox, we refuse to be beaten by your debtors and carry out personal collections until the cash has been fully recovered or every avenue has been exploited.

We find that even when pre-vetting is done by clients using systems like Creditsafe, you are still at risk of non-payment. Sometimes it's because the debtor won't pay, other times they are simply unwilling to pay what they owe.

Many consumers and businesses in the UK treat their bad debt as inconsequential and go on racking up debts with other suppliers. The tailored debt collection techniques used by Nightfox ensure that no debtor has the last laugh when it comes to money owed. No matter how old the debt, our expert team of debt collectors ensure that repayment in full is treated as a priority by your former customer or business acquaintance.

IF YOU HAVE A BAD DEBT, WE WILL DO EVERYTHING IN OUR POWER TO COLLECT IT

The reason for our success is down to our simple reliance on the good old fashioned face-to-face debt collection techniques that work so well. There are many online collection services that you can now access, these often don't bare fruit, as emails and letters can be ignored. Your debtor cannot ignore a real person stood in front of them. It is at that point the debtor will begin to take you seriously, the lines of communication that were lost will now be open.

We can help your business handle bad debt on a single case basis, or take over your entire collection of debtors, and we deal with UK debt collection and overseas debtors, when necessary.

You can rely on our professionalism and high levels of confidentiality when it comes to handling debt collections in the quickest and most successful manner. We may be old fashioned but we understand your company has a reputation. Your reputation is of paramount importance to us.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY:-

"They do it the old fashioned way. I was owed money by an online fraudster and after applying to the county courts and getting no help at all from them after 6 months I lost all hope. I was advised by a colleague to call Nightfox. After a chat with members of the Nightfox team and listening to their advice I started to feel more comfortable and knew they would endeavour to track down this fraudster and get my money returned. Well, they tracked the debtor down and had my money returned. If I'm ever placed in this situation again I will definitely be calling on the services of Nightfox and would advise and recommend this firm to anyone. Well done Nightfox, outstanding work and a BIG thank you to you all."

DOSS L

"Phil will not take no for an answer. When your invoices and calls are being ignored give Phil at Nightfox a call, he will not be ignored and will not be fobbed off."

LIAM N

"Paid back today debt of £19,000 just deposited in my account thanks to Jason Doyle. I had written this off and thought I'd never see it. Keith came to see me and put me at ease and asked me to be patient, which I was. I gave them a few weeks, called and they were expecting payment that Friday. Here I am now able to trade that little bit longer. Despite my supplier saying they wouldn't pay me and to 'do what I had to' they certainly paid Nightfox and cannot thank them enough. A special thanks to Gemma for paying me early."

KIM WOODHEAD - MD PACE FIRE AND SECURITY

"Simple solution to a year long problem! My company instructed Nightfox Investigations to recover from another company that we did subcontract work for. They were paid many months ago but claimed they hadn't been, we heard they had, so instructed Nightfox. I was impressed by their body-cam footage and the fact they visited straightaway, it took them a little under a month to get all the money back including my costs. I cannot thank the team enough and even accepted being told off for calling everyday, sorry... It was all too exciting for my finance team.."
